

International Doc'Day 2026

June 18th

10.00-10.30 Arrival and coffee for participants in Aarhus

Start of Zoom meeting

Welcome and introductions of the collaborating institutions

10.30-10.40 Welcome - Merete Birkelund (AU)

10.45-11.30 Presentation of the PhD programme for linguistics at Aarhus University and research trip possibilities - Mikkel Wallentin (AU)

BREAK

Introductions of the collaborating institutions (continued)

11.45-12.30 Presentation of the PhD programme for linguistics at Université Grenoble Alpes and research trip possibilities - Laure Gardelle (UGA)

Session 1

12.30-13.00 How does Decolonial Pedagogy move at the Intercultural University, Amawtay Wasi, in Ecuador - Freja Ruby Flejsborg (AU)

LUNCH

Session 2

14.00-14.30 Internationalization of Higher Education and Virtual Exchange: Tensions between Geopolitical Agendas and Individual Trajectories - Isabelle Petiot (AU)

14.30-15.00 From "presence" to "participation": Exploring willingness to communicate and social presence in virtual exchange - Lada Achilova (UGA)

BREAK

Session 3

15.30-16.00 Hearing vibrations? The impact of vibrotactile input on the perception of speech sounds - Ida Marie Thomsen Krarup (AU)

16:00: End of day 1

Participants are warmly invited to join the organisers and presenters for dinner in Aarhus after the event. Details to follow.

International Doc'Day 2026

June 19th

10.00-10.15

Arrival and coffee for participants in Aarhus

Start of Zoom meeting

Session 4

10.15-10.45

What Counts as X? Testing the Limits of Nominal Complements in the Danish Because X Construction - Anna-Merete Thinggaard (AU)

10.45-11.15

« Someone who junk-fooded her way through her pregnancy »: what can nonce verb uses reveal about the X's way construction? - Romane Marcon (UGA)

BREAK

Session 5

11.30-12.00

What is the effect of modifiers on generalisations? A case study of the typical American and the average American - Ismaël Zaidi (UGA)

12:00: Lunch and end of Doc'Day 2026